PROFILE

I am a dedicated and hardworking student currently studying computer science at the University of Plymouth. I have hands-on experience in customer facing roles providing me with strong communication skills and a solid foundation in my computing knowledge. I am now looking to do an industry placement to apply my academic knowledge to real world situations and further my professional skillset.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Website Manager

R2Electrical LTD, Puddletown Dec 2023 - Present

- Developed my HTML skillset creating a website through a service provider and then from scratch.
- Provided an opportunity to apply my academic knowledge to a real world scenario

Customer Assistant
